It may be quite small but should be close to the kitchen so as to minimize the labor of serving the meals and washing up afterwards. Sometimes an alcove is made off the kitchen, but this takes as much space as a separate room and is not nearly so satisfactory from any point of view, particularly when there are men to be fed. It is very desirable to keep them out of the kitchen. A shed, which is considered an absolute necessity in the country, will be hailed with delight anywhere. Its uses are manifold and cannot be catalogued. It is a sort of refuge for outcasts that cannot claim a more definite residence. They will be a diverse and motley company to be sure, these waifs: the velocipede with its pedals looks with pity on the one-armed ice-cream freezer; the ironing-board will gaze with padded contempt on the naked mahogany table leaves; while an assortment of garden tools will modestly seek to hide behind a bristling rubbish barrel; and king over all is the portly refrigerator. This last, however, is often placed in a small recess in the back vestibule, just large enough to receive it, between the outside back door to the porch and the one to the kitchen. Again, an excellent arrangement is to have it in the pantry, provided it is not too near the...
