Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Liebig s Complete Works on Chemistry: Comprising His Agricultural Chemistry; Or, Organic Chemistry in Its Application to Agriculture and Physiology; Animal Chemistry; Or, Organic Chemistry in Its Application to Physiology and Pathology; Familiar Letters on Chemistry, and Its Relations to Comm One of the most remarkable features of modern times is the combination of large numbers of individuals representing the whole intelligence of nations, for the express purpose of advancing science by their united efforts, of learning its progress, and of communicating new discoveries The formation of such associations is, in itself an evidence that they were needed. It is not every one who is called by his situation in life to assisting extending the bounds of science; but all mankind have a claim to the blessings and benefits which accrue from its earnest cultivation. The foundation of scientific institutions is an acknowledgment of these benefits, and this acknowledgment proceeding from whole nations may be considered as the triumph of mind Over empiricism. Innumerable are the aids afforded to the means of life, to manufactures and to commerce, by the truths which assiduous and active inquirers have discovered and rendered capable of practical application. But it is not the mere practical utility of these truths which is of importance. Their influence upon mental culture is most beneficial; and the new views acquired by the knowledge of them enable the mind to recognise, in the phenomena of nature, proofs of ah Infinite Wisdom, for the unfathomable profundity of which, language has no expression. At one of the meetings of the chemical section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, the honourable task of preparing...
